HISTORY OF THE BRANTFORD & DISTRICT KENNEL AND OBEDIENCE CLUB

The Club was started in the fall of 1971, with several dog enthusiasts holding meetings in each other homes, planning on how to make a viable club and getting to know what was involved in setting up the club and being awarded show dates. As there were other “doggie” people in the area, it was decided to rent a room at a local hotel and to advertise in the Expositor that a public meeting would be held with the intent of becoming more structured and gaining new members. The response was overwhelming. Our spokesman was Ray Lackenbauer who had Norwegian Elkhounds. A steering committee developed a formal constitution, which was adopted in February, 1972 and adopted the name Brantford & District Kennel Club. In October, 1973, the Brantford Obedience Club officially joined the Brantford & District Kennel Club and the club became the Brantford & District Kennel & Obedience Club. This joining of clubs evolved due to the majority of members in each club enjoying membership and activity in both disciplines.

Following completion of the required sanction matches (interestingly, the first match was held at the Ancaster Fairgrounds, the site of this year’s shows), The Club applied for show dates in September, 1973 but this request was denied as the Hamilton Kennel Club had shows on those dates. A second request (for December 1 and 2, 1973) was granted and the Canine Christmas Classic was born. Joyce Ellis was the first Show Chairperson and Don Palanio was Show Superintendent. In 1974, Bob Gilham became the Show Chair and Show Superintendent and served in those positions until his death in 2008 (with the occasional year off). Following the 1973 shows, the Club began to fill its equipment needs. Of note is that Anne Stewart served as Treasurer until 2014. In 1974, entries were 1,276 and 1,186 – unheard of numbers at that time – as Brantford was the final show of the year.

After the amalgamation of the conformation and obedience clubs, venues and dates for both shows had to be addressed. The Brantford Civic Centre was the only place in town that could host the conformation shows (with the wood flooring covering the ice). However, it was not large enough to hold both conformation and obedience at the same time, so the obedience trials were switched to the first weekend in May. The Club was responsible for starting the judging careers of several members including Bob Gilham and Ole Nielson who became all breed judges and continued to judge until their deaths.

For the first 25 years and beyond, the Club had an average membership of 40 members whose interest in diverse areas of the canine fancy included showing, handling, obedience trialing and visiting nursing homes and schools. These numbers, as with most all breed clubs, have dropped appreciably in recent years. Obedience training and show handling were hosted and seminars to help educate the public on what they should know when purchasing a new public were held regularly. At the time of our 25th Anniversary, there were three couples who were Charter Members and “new” Life Members. Don and Eleanor Palanio bred and showed Collies under the kennel name of Escapade, Bob and Anne Stewart bred Great Danes under the prefix of Ellismuir and bob and Irene Gilham bred English Setters, Irish Setters and English Cockers under the prefix of Brandyrun. At the time of our 50th Anniversary, Irene Gilham (pictured) and Don Palanio are still with us. Robin and Bill Hughes (Da Skipper), Al and Joanne Matheson (Ganymede), Betty and Dave Pateman (Palman) and Marjorie and Dave Reynolds are life members.

The Club has supported the Canadian Guide Dog Association, the Brantford Humane Society and the Salvation Army for a number of years. Donations are made to various worthy organizations including Junior Handling. The Club has continued on with the conformation shows annually although the obedience trials were halted for a time. The obedience trials are back now and the Club is now holding obedience trials, rally and agility at the Poodle Farm. There are presently four couples holding life memberships: Al & Joanne Matheson, Robin & Bill Hughes, Dave & Betty Pateman and Marjorie & Dave Reynolds.

The Brantford & District and Obedience Club welcome all exhibitors to our 50th Anniversary shows. We hope you enjoy your time with us as we will enjoy our time with you.
